

How to Use This Lucky to Be Your Friend Ladybug Craft

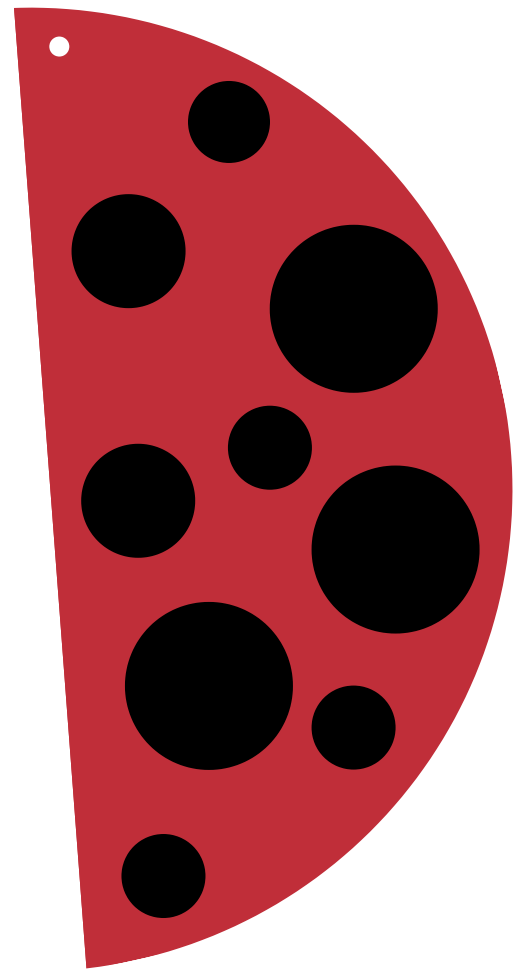

1. Use the version you wish: tracing template or printable template.
2. If you use the tracing template, print one copy on cardstock and cut out each piece to create templates. Trace each piece on construction paper (the body and head on black, the wings on red).
3. If you use the printable templates, print one color copy for each child on cardstock.
4. Children will cut out the shapes.
5. Using the point of a pair of adult scissors, create a small hole in the body of the ladybug and both wings where the dots are. Put a brad through the holes and secure in the back so the wings can open.
6. If you printed wings with no black circles, kids can either draw in black circles or cut and glue black paper circles.
7. Open the wings and on the belly of the ladybug in white crayon or white colored pencil, write "I am lucky to be your friend!"
8. To connect this craft to creative writing, kids can write/draw and dictate why they are lucky to be friends with this person.
9. Other Ideas: I am Lucky You're My: teacher, mom, dad, aunt, uncle, grandparent, coach, neighbor, etc.

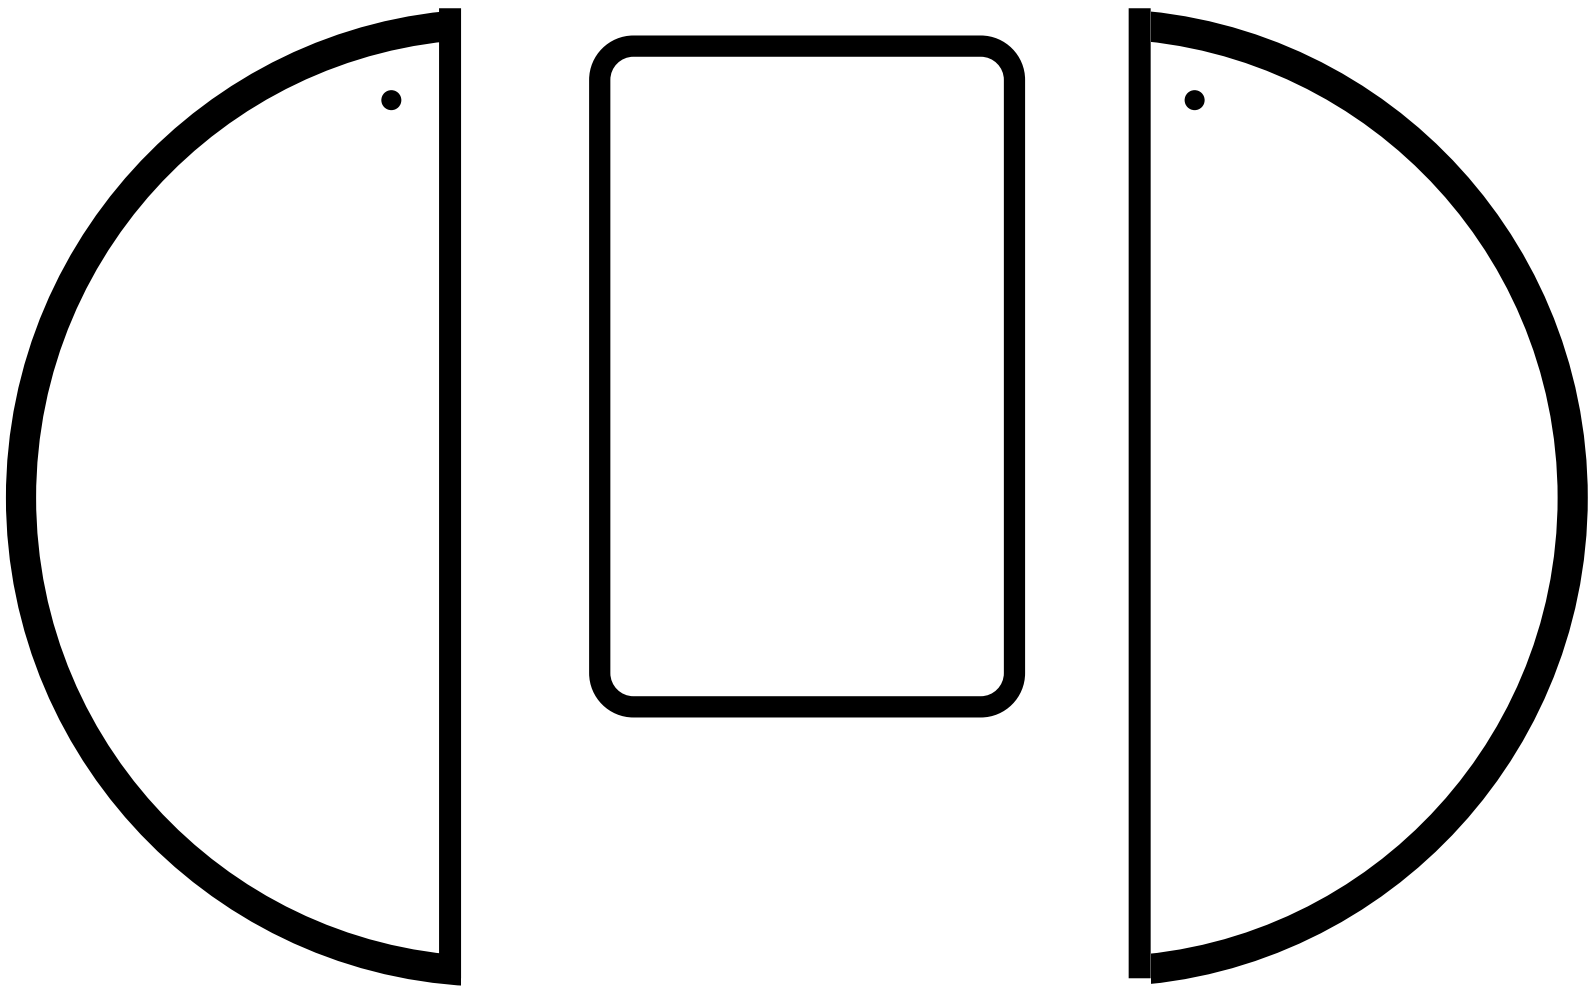

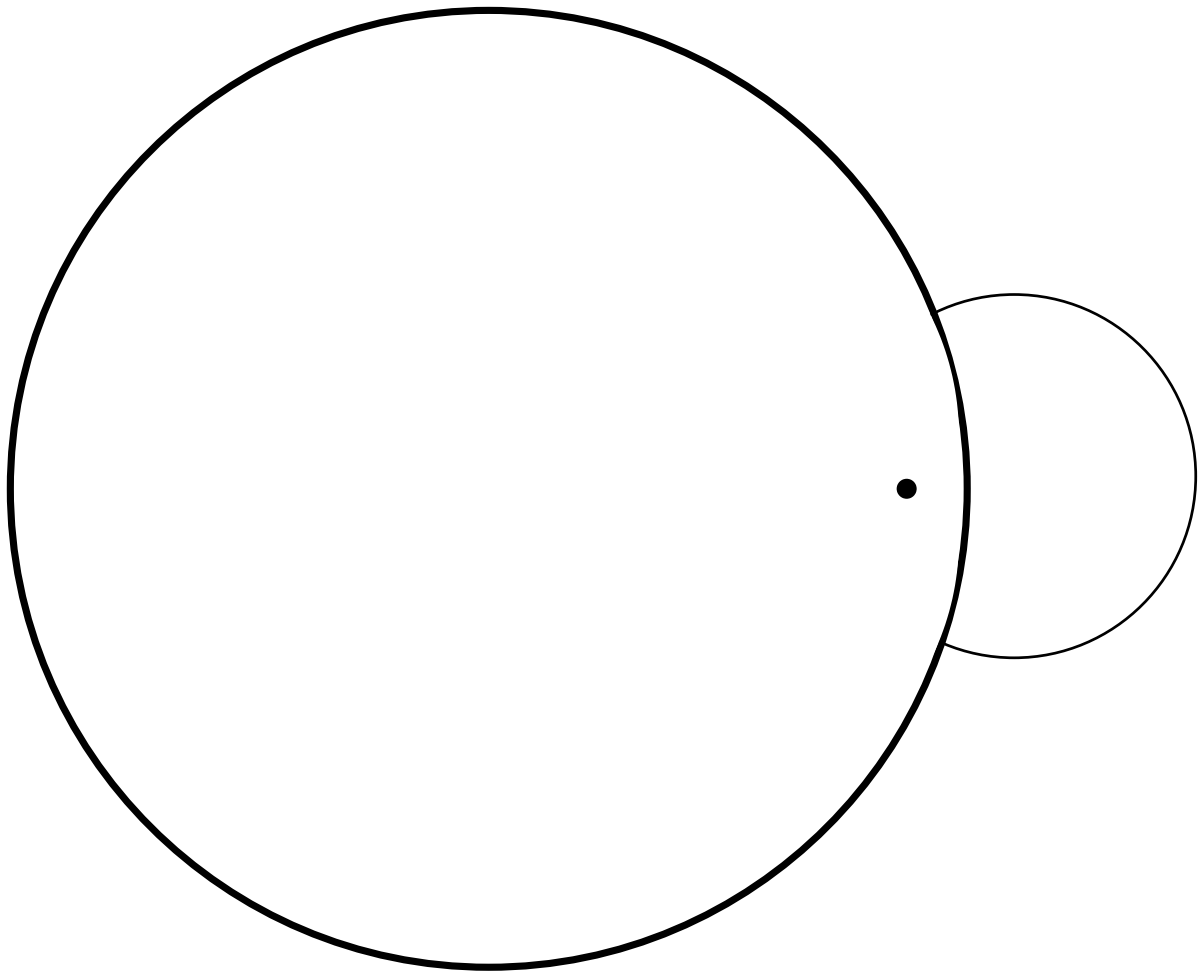

Two large, red circular shapes, each a semi-circle, positioned on the left and right sides of the page. Each semi-circle has a small white dot at its top edge.

Lucky to be Your Friend.

Lucky
to be your Friend.

I am Lucky You're My Friend:

A large, empty rectangular box with a thick grey border, intended for drawing or writing.

_____

-----

_____

_____

-----

_____

_____

-----

I am Lucky You're My _____:

A large, empty rectangular box with a thick grey border, intended for a drawing or illustration.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

I am Lucky You're My Friend:

I am Lucky You're My _____:

